About This Area of Practice

We advise lenders on loan transactions so they can turn around loans and provide their clients with the financing they need in the time-frame that they require.

We act for various types of lenders including: banks, credit unions, pension funds, trust companies, government lenders, public and private corporations, as well as individual lenders. Our twin priorities of securing the lender and getting the deal done guide our handling of every file.

We also represent borrowers - working with the lender's counsel to find creative solutions which will give the borrower the flexibility it needs while satisfying the lender's requirement for security.
